Good afternoon,

Many cities and towns include a link to the Agency Handbook on the Attorney General's website to comply with A.R.S. § 38-431.01(G). The good news is the AG has updated the Handbook to incorporate the recent changes in the law; however, it seems that they changed the web address so some of your sites may now lead to an error page. The new link is <https://www.azag.gov/outreach/publications/agency-handbook>.

If your website contains a pdf version, please make sure to download and post this newest version. Thanks!
